MR. J. IVES WANTS TO KNOW WHO STARTED THE LYING RUNON ABOUT DANWELL

65 Cambridge Ave., Hamilton, Ont.
Dear Sir:—
I am writing you a few lines, concerning the Private W. Danwell, as my wife, Cecilia Ives was up Town this Saturday morning and happened to meet Mrs. Sharp, of Grimsby and the first word she asked was to know how Mr. Danwell was. Of course it came as a great shock to my wife. She said he had been seen in Grimsby. If there is any truth in the matter would be glad if you would let me know at once, as we were all convinced he was killed in the war, and if it is lies I would like to get the one that first brought them about.
Yours truly,
Mr. J. Ives.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The above letter is written by Mr. J. Ives, husband of the woman Mrs. W. Danwell.

GRIMSBY.
Mrs. W. Danwell left GRIMSBY in 1918, with the 55th Battalion and shortly after his arrival in England he was located, along with several other local boys, in France. On October 8, 1918, seven local men were supposedly killed by a shell and in due time they were reported missing, and eventually were reported as having been killed in action. These men were W. Danwell, J. R. Dennison, W. Danwell, J. Lickers, W. Johnson, F. Dibble, and a man from Jordan. No trace of any of these men has ever been discovered and they are all mourned as dead.

In the meantime Mrs. Danwell re-married; to a gentleman in Hamilton by the name of Ives. A few weeks ago some one started the story that Danwell had returned. The story gained ground and grew in detail, as it drifted and in a day or two it was announced that Danwell had turned up in Hamilton, taken his two children from his former wife, and disappeared. This story was in everybody's mouth.

The writer strenuously denied the rumor, from the first, and has continued to do so, and has had many arguments over it, with people, who tried to make it appear that they knew all about the matter.
As a matter of fact the whole thing was a lie from the beginning, and like all other lies of this kind it had hundreds of people who were willing to back it up; and like many other lies this parties most concerned Mr. and Mrs. Ives, were the last to hear of it, but eventually it did come to their ears and the above letter is the result.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT GRIFFIN CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

In Calisto on January 25th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Griffin a very enjoyable day was spent celebrating their Golden Wedding.
At two o'clock about thirty sat down to a sumptuous dinner which was carefully prepared by the bride. After dinner was served the happy couple marched into the parlor, where they were presented with many handsome and useful presents, after which a carefully selected program was rendered.
Their many friends being present were from Niagara Falls, Dundas, Smithville, Brantford, Abingdon and Calisto.
The happy couple were blessed with eight children and sixteen grandchildren. All the children were present except one daughter, Mrs. Pittman of Abingdon.
After wishing them many returns of joy and singing "God be with you all" the happy couple returned to their home.

The Editor of the "Standard" has received a letter from the Mayor of the City of St. Catharines, who desired the Mayor to place it in a fund for establishing or making a start toward the establishment of a Rose Garden in the City of St. Catharines.

THE EDITOR OF THE ST. CATHARINES "STANDARD" PROVIDES FOR A ROSE GARDEN

Mr. W. H. Burgoyne, Editor of the St. Catharines "Standard" and a former mayor of that City, has made a handsome gift to the City, for the proposed establishment of a rose garden.
Mayor Eason, who, by the way, is the Editor of the "Journal" received a letter the other day, containing a cheque for $1000, from Mr. Burgoyne who desired the Mayor to place it in a fund for establishing or making a start toward the establishment of a Rose Garden in the City of St. Catharines.

In this connection we might mention that Mr. W. H. Burgoyne has been one of the most enthusiastic members of the St. Catharines Horticultural Society for years, and has spent a considerable amount of time and money and given the free use of the columns of his newspaper for the purpose of beautifying the City and encouraging the cultivation of plants and flowers.

Mr. Burgoyne is just now celebrating the anniversary of his fiftieth year in the newspaper business, which has grown from a small job office to a pretentious daily newspaper and job printing plant. The "Standard" is moving into new and more commodious quarters this week and has installed one of his finest plants in the Province of Ontario.

WE WELCOME YOU

SEBASTIAN P. COCKS AND OTHERS ARRIVE FROM ENGLAND

During the past week we have been called upon to welcome back to this District the undermentioned men who have been across the seas for various periods during the past four years or international strife, doing their bit for the Empire.
It is a regrettable fact that there is no official Reception Committee of either the Village or Township Councils, or hand to greet these war-scarred veterans, upon their return to their homes; and yet it is not altogether the fault of our local governing bodies that this condition of affairs exists, as it is next to impossible to find out anything definite with regard to the arrival of our Heroes, until they have actually landed in our midst.

The boys will have to take the will for their deed and accept the welcome of the entire community through the medium. The fact that we are unable to extend the glad-hand of fellowship when they step from the train in our village does not detract in any way from the feeling of appreciation we have for what they have done, nor from the great gladness that is felt over their safe return to their own firesides, which is marred only by the feeling of sadness that it is inevitable should come over us over the non-return of those heroes of the Empire who have laid down their lives for us.

COCKS, Sergt. Phillip, of Paton St., GRIMSBY, where his family have resided since his departure for Overseas, returned to the Village on Thursday last week, unaccompanied. Sergt. Cocks had been a resident of this district for some years previous to the outbreak of hostilities and enlisted and proceeded overseas with the 98th Battalion, in 1916. In England he was stationed with the Command Depot, Hastings, as a Company Sergeant-Major Instructor and remained there until September, 1917 at which time he returned to his home in order to get to France, where he became attached to the 10th Battalion, a Toronto unit, in March, 1918. Cocks was promoted to be Corporal and two weeks later was evacuated from the front line to hospital in England, and on the day that he was to be sent to England, Cocks was hospitalized and remained there until he was sent to England.

VIZOR, Cadet V. V. V., a former resident of GRIMSBY and of Beamsville, returned to this District on Tuesday, having arrived in Canada on H. M. T. "Granville" a few days ago. Cadet Vizor enlisted with the 5th Battalion and proceeded to England with that unit in 1916; and shortly after arriving in the Old Country was drafted to the 2nd Battalion, "Toronto Regiment," an "Original First" unit, in September, 1916. He served in the Front Line with the 2nd until badly wounded in the battle of Vimy Ridge in April, 1917, when he was evacuated to "Blighty" where he spent some eight or nine months in hospital. In July, 1918 he returned to duty in the 1st Line with his former unit and remained with it until recommended for his commission and returned to England to an Officers' Training Camp to complete his course, in October, 1918. Cadet Vizor was not quite through with his Officers' Training Course when the armistice was signed in November, 1918.

LAY, Sergt. J. H., of Beamsville.

HENDERSON, P. D., of Wilmot.

EXETER, P. Frank of Beamsville.

CLOUTIER, Corp. James E., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cloutier, Hiramton St., North GRIMSBY, returned to our midst on Tuesday afternoon, having arrived on H. M. T. "Granville" at the beginning of last week. Corp. Cloutier enlisted in October, 1915, with the Depot C. M. R., Hamilton through the 2nd Dragoon, and was sent to England on draft in July, 1916, where he remained at the Cavalry Training Depot until March, 1917, when he was drafted to France to the Royal Canadian Dragoon. For seventeen months Corp. Cloutier "carried on" in the 1st Line, with his regiment, receiving his promotion to May, 1918; until he was evacuated to England in August, 1918 to be operated on for appendicitis. Corp. Cloutier has been in England since that time, until his return to his home this week.

UPPER, Pte. John J. Upper, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Upper of Hamilton, formerly of GRIMSBY, returned to his home some time ago, after over two and a half years' absence. Overseas Pte. Upper went to England with the 14th Battalion, and was drafted to France. He went through the "May Day" fight in April, 1917, without a scratch, only to be taken off with a severe wound to the leg. He returned to his unit upon discharge in hospital, and about a year later was again attacked by the "flu" and for some weeks was in such a condition that his life was despaired of. Upon his return home, a few weeks ago, he was on the troop train that was wrecked a short distance out of Halifax, in which three returning veterans lost their lives, and he came through that with but a shattering up.

IS MEMORIAL

In loving memory of John Cope, who died February 6th, 1913.
How many times have we thought of him.
Through the days of the years gone by;
How many tears have we shed for him.
Our boy, so young to die.
We lost him, oh, so suddenly.
Our hearts were wrung with pain;
But blessed souls for our grief
We hope we'll meet again.
—Mother and Grandparents.

IN MEMORIAM

To the memory of John R. W. Cope, died Feb. 6th, 1913.
Six years have passed, my heart's still sore,
As I miss you more,
But your memory is as dear to-day
As in the hour you passed away.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear how I long for you,
I often sit and think of you,
And think of how you died.
To think you couldn't say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
But in God's keeping now you lie.
Could I have raised your dying head,
For the one I love so well.
The grief would not have been so hard
Or the one I loved so well.
You are not forgotten Johnny dear,
Or you will never be
So long as life and memory last to me.
—Father.

CAPT. JOHNSON WINS SECOND BAR TO MILITARY CROSS

In a list of decorations awarded to Canadians which have been gazetted within the past few days, appears the following:
"Awarded Second Bar to Military Cross—Capt. W. W. Johnson, 55th Battalion."

Capt. Johnson's record is such and so well-known to residents of GRIMSBY and District that it needs no repetition, except to say that this is the third honour conferred upon him, in addition to the winning of his Commission, and a promotion to the Commissioned ranks; Capt. W. W. Johnson having enlisted from the 1st Battalion and served overseas in the 5th Battalion.

PHILIP M. WINNER'S FAMILY SUFFER A SAD AFFLICTION

Sad indeed is the affliction that has visited the home of Philip M. Winner of Jordan Station, during the past week when death claimed two daughters from the home circle. The epidemic which is so prevalent in the district entered the home and seven members of the family were under the doctor's care. The first death occurred on Wednesday, Jan. 22, when Marie, aged 17 years, 11 months, was called away. The funeral, owing to the illness in the home, was held the next day. In less than a week's time, on Tuesday, Jan. 22, the second member of the family was taken. Mary, aged 13 years and 6 months. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 p.m. Both deaths were caused by influenza followed by pneumonia. The other members of the family are now thought to be out of danger. The bereaved parents and family have the sympathy of the whole community. —Beamsville Express.

PHIPPS' STORE BROKEN INTO

On Thursday evening, last, some person or persons unknown took a notion to enter, by illegal means, the store of A. M. Phipps, and they did it.
About 12:45 Friday morning Chief Constable Konkle was called from his bed, upon an alarm sounded by Mr. Phipps, and he rushed to the scene of the depredation, where he discovered that the rear store of the store had been smashed in and entrance to the building effected.
Upon examination of the premises nothing was found to be disturbed, or missing, and it is assumed that the thief, whoever it may have been, was frightened away soon after he had gotten inside, by the arrival of Mr. Phipps who had just come from Hamilton and went into the store to look at his fire.

There was no trace of the work of the thief except the broken store door, where he had come in, so our local detective department is at a loss to lay the crime at the door of anyone, although it is believed there are clues and rumors of clues, of which we can get no particulars.
This is the second robbery and attempt at robbery, that has occurred in this district within a very short time and we are now waiting for the third of the cycle, before turning over and going to sleep again.

A TIGER WOMAN ROLE

The role of a tiger woman is a new one for Daupine Frederick, but that she portrays it artistically will be evident to all who see her in her new picture, "Her Final Reckoning," at Moore's Theatre next Wednesday, February 12th. This is a remarkable picture depicting life in Paris, the heroine being Karen, a Russian Gypsy girl whose love affair with Prince Zilah involves her in great trouble. It is one of the most remarkable pictures in which Miss Frederick ever been seen.

Remarkable fancy roller skating is one of the interesting and unusual features in "Neighbors," the new World Picture which with Marge Evans and Johnny Hines as the stars, will be shown on Monday, Feb. 10 at Moore's Theatre. This fancy roller skating is done by a professional skater, and it occurs in a scene where Marge, in the role of the heroine, Charlene, participates in a roller skating contest. This skating contest is one of the big events in a scene where Marge, in the role of the heroine, Charlene, participates in a roller skating contest in this big production.

FACTS AND FANCIES

BY FRANK FAIRBORN

They say that "truth is stranger than fiction"—it may be so, but I'll swear it cannot travel half so fast.

I have always noticed that if the truth is told about a man, it travels very slowly—in fact it can hardly be said that it travels at all, all it merely creeps along. But tell a lie about a man and it goes on the jump—it flies from pillar to post and back again—it races along like a prairie fire.

So it was with the report about the late Pte. W. Hanwell, who has been officially declared as dead, by the Records Branch of the Department of Militia and Defense, for over two years; yet it has been in everybody's mouth, for the past month, that he had returned to Canada, only to find that his widow had married again and was living with her new husband, in Hamilton.

This rumor has probably been repeated by five hundred people in GRIMSBY and District and not one of the persons who told the story had the slightest foundation for the lying rumor which they helped to spread, except that they could say "Somebody told me so."

The story has also been told to me by at least fifty people and to each one of them, my answer has been "I do not believe it."

And although I was only giving this answer on the basis of "general principles," yet I believe that up to date my answer was founded on fact.

Several people who told me the story were not at all pleased with my answer and tried to convince me that the man had actually come home; and tried to back their story up by stating that he had been seen in Hamilton, and that a GRIMSBY man had been talking to him.

And one even went so far as to state that he had seen him with his two children and disappeared with them.

The strange thing about it all is that nearly every one who told the story about Hanwell's return, said that he had returned and expressed great sorrow for the trouble that had come about, were, in their hearts, rejoiced at the select bit of scandal, and glad to have an opportunity to take a slam at the woman, who had married again.

In this issue of the INDEPENDENT appears a letter from Mr. J. Ives, the present husband of the former Mrs. Hanwell, who says it is only a few days ago that the astounding story reached the ears of his wife and him.

It was an actual fact that every body apparently knew that Hanwell had "returned" but the poor woman who had formerly been his wife.

It was like burning a man's house down, while he slept, peacefully, fifty miles away, unconcerned of the loss he was suffering, until the whole thing was over. It was almost like holding a funeral without the presence of the chief person—the corpse.

For a month past all the people of GRIMSBY have been in grief and sorrow about the "deplorable" fact that Hanwell had "returned" only to find his widow married, but all the while this grief and sorrow was based on the fact that the public, the curious, interested party, Mrs. Hanwell, knew nothing at all about the matter.

It is a blessed thing that the rumor had spent itself and ran itself off its feet before Mrs. Hanwell (Ives) knew anything about it, and while she may be greatly shocked and grieved, now that it has reached her ears, she is to be congratulated on the fact that the poor public was suffering intensely for a month or six weeks while she was entirely unconscious of the whole trouble.

Ever since the war commenced, the public have been all too eager to grasp rumors, and often senseless rumors, and spread them like lightning, through the community.

All kinds of false rumors have been started about boys and men serving overseas, with the result that their parents and relatives have been heartbroken for a few days, or a week only to discover later that the whole affair was a lying rumor, without foundation, started by a thoughtless word or some mistake in a name.

Often many people and secure their ill-will, because I have a habit of saying "What do you get the information?" "Where did they get the information?" "What does he know of it?" and "Are you sure of your facts?" etc.

And if the people, in general, would meet busybodies who spread rumors with a similar set of questions—"Who told you so?" "What does she know about it?" etc., etc., they would soon check up a lot of people who delight in spreading false alarms to-day just for the enjoyment of the thing—even the stories are contradicted and proved to be lies, to-morrow.

It is a most amazing thing that the report about Hanwell had currency for four or five weeks, in GRIMSBY and vicinity, and all that time the woman most concerned was living a few miles away, and nobody went to the bother of informing themselves as to the facts of the case.

It is to be hoped that the Hanwell boys will teach a few goings a little bit of tongue-control, and teach a few of the general public that if they cannot stop a rumor, they can at least discourage those who are trying to spread it.

The British workmen have won in their fight for more and stronger beer. A dispatch from London, England appears in the Toronto Globe on Feb. 4th as follows:

London, Feb. 3.—The War Cabinet has decided to allow an increase of 25 per cent. on the existing permitted statutory beverage of beer, and to increase by three degrees the average gravity of beer. The Government, however, will still maintain control of prices.

A Peterboro whiskey detective got in wrong when he seized and broke a lot of eggs, which a lady was conveying in a club bag. He didn't get any whiskey, but he got egg-sog. The dispatch tells the little story.

Peterboro, Feb. 3.—The lot of the man diligent in official business is not always a profitable one. The duties of License Inspector Goodrich called that painstaking and zealous officer to Newville the other day. Rumors and reports had been heard that the man who had port of the helm, the

WHILE stooping near the stove I caught the handle of a pan of boiling water and upset it," writes Mrs. Albert Smart, of 279 Harbison Ave., Winnipeg.

"The entire contents of the pan poured partly down my arm, but mostly over my foot, and as I was wearing slippers at the time my foot was very badly scalded. A huge blister covered the whole top of my foot and the pain I suffered was intense. We had heard how good Zam-Buk is for such injuries, so my husband got some and applied it."

"The first application soon gave me wonderful relief from the burning pain, and continued applications completely cured the scald. After this demonstration of the value of Zam-Buk, we are now never without a stick in the house. We have proved it invaluable for the many little accidents which occur so frequently in every home."

Zam-Buk is just as effective for skin diseases, such as eczema, salt rheum and ulcers, and is without equal for piles. In many cases where the disease is of a long standing, and other remedies have been useless, Zam-Buk has worked a complete and permanent cure. Its absolute purity makes it suitable for the most tender skin (even the skin of a young baby) and mothers should always keep a box on hand for emergencies. Zam-Buk does not deteriorate with keeping. # BANFF IN CARNIVAL TIME

BANFF will again be a tale for the Third Winter Carnival, from February 7th to the 15th. Those who were fortunate enough to visit it during the Carnival last year, found a Banff they had never dreamed of; how could they? For the beauty of this mountain resort in winter? Ask any resident of Banff which season he prefers, and his answer will invariably be "Winter."

It will only be a case of a very few years till tourists arrange their trips to take in the Carnival at Banff; as Banff was visited New Orleans in March for the Mardi Gras Festival for the first time, and when they are on the Banff, the National Resort, will soon be the centre of winter sports in Canada, as Kristiania in Norway, and Stockholm, Sweden. Why? It is a perfect winter playground, apart from the wonderful scenery, and many will want to see the "Top of the World" in winter.

The preparations for the Carnival this year are on a larger scale than previous years. The aim is to make Banff a winter resort as well as a summer playground. In one aspect the visitor will find the amusement of both combined in the hot sulphur springs, which give one the privilege of swimming out in the open with the thermometer above, or twenty below zero, in hot liquid, but warm water.

The spirit of the Carnival will again have full sway throughout the town, and those who arrive at night will find the pages of many books have at last become a part of their lives; for they are in a veritable fairyland. Colored lights are to be strung across the streets, down the toboggan slide, and on the banks in thousands, giving the gala effect as desired.

and the Inspector was on the spot. Arrived at the station, the placidly heavy cloud had us in its clutches, and the sun was hidden away. The circumstances appeared to justify investigation. The Inspector lifted the bag, shook it and listened. Then he shook it harder and some more—and listened again. But there was not a single tell-tale gurgle.

The Inspector passed on, to return later. On his second appearance in the vicinity things happened. An irate and righteously indignant lady resident of the village was waiting, with several things to say to him. She preceded to say them, to the joy of everyone within hearing, except the Inspector. The bag contained several dozen now thoroughly verminous eggs!

The lady had purchased a consignment of cooking eggs at Port Hope and carefully packed them in her husband's club bag. On arrival at this station she left the heavy grip on the platform, and took the balance of her groceries home. Meanwhile the stalwart and suspicious officer of the law did his effective shaking.

The Inspector, it is understood, made good the lady's loss, both eggs and bag.

SHE LOVED THE HIGHER AGRICULTURE

He asked her if she'd marry him and live upon a farm. (He'd stay in agriculture at a college.)

And when the maiden quizzed him (though she'd done her best to conceal it) "Are you sure you have sufficient farming knowledge?"

"Do you know that modern farmers do not farm their farms these days in the rustic manner formerly employed?"

Are you going to be a hayseed or a modern rube who plays Golf and tennis, and who's not by chores annoyed?"

"Will you have the kitchen garden spaded up and smoothed and packed?"

An marked tennis—big enough tennis?"

Will you plant a nine-hole golf course where the hay was sowed and stacked? In the days when farmers' lives were full of troubles!

Experimentation as compared with only five in 1912. During the past few years the number of colonies at some of the farms have increased, while at others they have decreased, chiefly through loss in winter. Methods of preventing much of this loss were worked out.

Taking a period of six years (1913-1918 inclusive), the highest returns have been obtained at the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa where the average annual yield of honey per colony, spring count, for the six years, amounted to 121.6 pounds. The next highest yield was at Nappan, N. S., where the average yield was 102.2 pounds for a period of five years (1912-1917); Lethbridge, Alta., gave 76.2 pounds (1912-1915); Iversburg, R. C., gave 70.5 pounds (1914-1918); St. Anne de la Poutriere, Que., 59.4 pounds (1913-1917); Cap Rouge, Que., 58.7 pounds (1913-1915); Lacombe, Alta., 52.8 pounds (1915-1918); Fredericton, N. B., 50.9 pounds (1914-1918); Kentville, N. S., 47.4 lbs (1914-1918).

The above gives only the amount of surplus honey obtained; to this must be added the net increase made in bees during the same period. The average value of the honey, the price of which varied at the different farms, and of the increase of bees per colony during the same number of years is as follows: Ottawa $17.27, 1912-1918; Lethbridge, Alta., $14.48, 1912-1917; Nappan, N. S., $12.41, 1912-1917; Iversburg, R. C., $12.29, 1914-1918; Lacombe, Alta., $12.78, 1913-1918; Indian Head, Sask., $11.25, 1915-1917; St. Anne de la Poutriere, Que., $11.42, 1913-1917; Fredericton, N. B., $9.25, 1914-1918; Sumnerland, N. C., $8.25, 1914-1918; Cap Rouge, Que., $7.12, 1913-1917; Kentville, N. S., $5.11, 1914-1918. While and aside above were principal sources of honey at all the farms except Lethbridge where the honey came from alfalfa. All the honey produced was of good quality, that from St. Anne de la Poutriere being exceptionally fine.

Management was found to be an important factor in honey production. The men in charge of the apiaries who had over two years experience did much better than those with less. The bees at Ottawa have been under expert care all the time, and at those at Nappan, Lethbridge, and a few of the other places, too, received similar care, and of no lesser returns might have been obtained. It was also noticed that better returns came from beekeeping both a congenial and profitable side line.

There are few places in Canada where beekeeping cannot be carried on profitably. There are also many farming areas, except in the best spots, where it is largely neglected. For example, Prince Edward Island, certain parts of Nova Scotia, the St. John River Valley, N. B., the Lake St. John district, Que., and many places in Ontario and Manitoba.

It's up to you to make it last

If you spend all you earn, you're a fool. If you lose it, you're out. If you find it, you're in. If you owe it, they're always after you. If you lend it, you're always after them.

It's the cause of evil. It's the cause of good. It's the cause of happiness. It's the cause of sorrow. If the government makes it, it's all right. If you make it, it's all wrong. As a rule it's hard to get. But it's pretty soft when you get it.

It talks! To some it says, "I've come to stay." To others it whispers, "Good-bye." Some people get it a bank. Others go to jail for it. The Mint makes it first. It's up to you to make it last.

How The Hun Used His Red Cross Trains

THE PROBLEM OF SHIPPING.

Mr. Conson Guthrie, member of the executive board of the United States Shipping Control and the British Ministry of Shipping, who has just paid a three months' visit to France and England, said recently that the pressure on shipping would not be relieved until a year after peace was concluded.

In making this estimate he took into account the production of all the shipyards in the United States as well as those in Great Britain and France.

"There must be no let-up in construction," said Mr. Conson. "The British Admiralty will continue to escort its ships across the Atlantic until everything has been definitely settled."

"Coal is being sent in Italy from France by railroad instead of sending it around by sea, with the risk of the ship being torpedoed in the Mediterranean or striking a mine. This coal, it is hoped, will be furnished by France from the mines at Cambrai, which have been in the possession of the Germans until recently. They have not been destroyed by the enemy."

"The Germans could not work much fuel from the mines, as the railways were under attack from the British guns. Now, of course, the French can go ahead."

"Coal will be sent to France from England to replace what she needs to Italy and also to supply the American armies in France, as it is too far to transport fuel from this country across the Atlantic. This gives some idea of the co-operation among the Allies in carrying on the war. From what I have been told, it is the wish of the Governments to hand their own commandeered ships back to their owners after peace has been concluded. I understand, however, that direction of the cargoes and the decision as to the trade the steamships will be operated in will remain in the hands of the Governments until it has been determined that the national situation is safe. Quantities of raw materials, machinery, and foodstuffs will have to be taken to Europe, and there will also be the enormous task of carrying the soldiers of all nations now in France back to their native lands. Apart from the American armies of more than 3,000,000, there are over 300,000 Canadians, the Australians, New Zealanders, Africans, East, West, South and North Indian troops, Arabs, West Indian regiments, and many other regiments as well as some 100,000 Chinese coolies. It may take three years or more to accomplish this work of repatriation."

"America has not only done valuable work with her new merchant marine in carrying troops and supplies from this country to France and England, but also with her steamships, which have been operating successfully between the British and French ports for more than a year. The moment peace is signed the Germans will start to boom their foreign trade. It will take Germany some time to get back the markets she had for her goods in 1914, and it is up to America and Great Britain to see that Germany does not accomplish this feat in a hurry."

"The development of the German trade and the help it received from German shipping, Germany has lost that trade and we must see that it does not go back. The German steamship lines got such a large share of the world's passenger traffic and freight trade because they operated luxurious liners with well-found cargo ships and gave good service to their clients. When the passenger business starts up again after the war and America gets the four new 25-knotters she is looking forward to, and which I understand are going to be built, then we must give good service. If we do our people will prefer to travel on them and to send us their freight. The producer of goods must be studied by giving him a regular service so that he can conduct his business in a proper manner. The passenger will also have to be studied."

"Sir Conson Guthrie, an officer in the Grenadier Guards, but was wounded so severely at Neuve Chapelle in 1915 that he had to go into a hospital for nine months, and afterward was unfit for further service in the firing line."

Discharged Men.
The Duke of Connaught has identified himself with the "Comrades of the Great War," organization as against the Federation of Discharged Men.

When it was announced that the duke had agreed to open the Market Week at Indre, a group of the Federation of Discharged Men, and soldiers on behalf of the "Comrades of the Great War" wrote to Lord Harcourt asking him to bring certain matters to the duke's notice, and stating that the Discharged Men's Federation was a political organization, inasmuch as it was running candidates for Parliament.

The duke is supporting candidates, but not for political reasons; purely in the interests of the discharged men, whom the "Comrades of the Great War" are not in a position to represent.

As a result of Lord Harcourt's intervention it is that the duke declined the invitation to open the Market Week at Indre.

Australia's Naval Defence.
Acting Premier Watt, speaking in the Australian House of Representatives, stated that the Government had already taken action to secure expert advice regarding Australia's naval defence. In the Senate, Mr. Pearce, Minister of Defence, foreshadowed the certainty of additional taxation for the next few years.

Under Arms.
It is estimated that five per cent. of the inhabitants of all the countries in the war were under arms, the percentage ranging from .02 in the case of Liberia to ten in the case of Germany, which has made by far the heaviest call on its male population.

Little colder—Local snow drizzle.

We took upon a gas leak in our pipe line system as so serious that we have a standing order in the organization for every man to stop what he is doing when a leak is reported, and do everything in his power to locate it and stop it.

Although natural gas is delivered to your home so cheaply, it is one of the most precious of nature's gifts to man. Even as we are careful to stop leaks and prevent wholesale waste of gas, so do we ask you to be economical in your use of gas in your home.

Although natural gas is cheap, do not waste it, the supply is not everlasting.

THE SOY BEAN FOR FODDER OR FOR FEED.

The soy bean may be grown either for its stem and leaves as a forage plant, or for the seeds only.

The soy seeds are especially valuable as a stock-feed since chemical analysis has shown that they stand in the front rank as the richest source of nutritive material present. The oil is used to some extent as a substitute for lard in certain kinds of paint. It is also used in the manufacture of soap.

The soy bean will grow on any kind of soil and its climatic requirements are somewhat the same as those of corn. On this continent it is grown for seed mainly in the south-eastern United States. As the seed is sown only after the danger of frost is over, it follows that the season in many parts of Canada is not sufficiently long for the seeds to ripen properly. However, experiments conducted at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, during the last three years have shown that there are certain early maturing varieties which are quite satisfactory.

The yield of seed per acre in the United States varies from 15 bushels in the Northern States to 40 bushels in the Southern States.

During the year 1916 seeds of two varieties were, through the kindness of the Bureau of Plant Industry at Washington, D.C., obtained for trial. These were Manchou and Black Eyebrow. They were sown in plots 14 to 12 feet each plot measuring 1227 of an acre. The seeds were planted in five rows with intervals of 24 feet between the rows. The particular rate of sowing was not determined, the seeds being sown fairly thick and the plants being thinned out afterwards.

The variety Manchou was sown on May 22, 1916, and attained an average height of 5 feet. The plot was cut on September 25, the weight of seeds after removal from the pods being 6 pounds 14 ounces. Dr. Shutt, Dominion chemist, analyzed these seeds and found the amount of oil present to be 20.25 per cent.

The variety Black Eyebrow was sown on the same date, and attained the same average height. It was cut on the same day as Manchou and yielded 7 pounds 21 ounces of seeds with an oil content of 20.25 per cent.

If 7 pounds of seed be taken as the average of the two plots and if 24 pounds be reckoned to be bushel, the yield would work out at about 22 1/2 bushels per acre.

In the same year a few seeds of another variety obtained from the Botanical Garden at Nancy, France, were sown on May 23. The plants attained a height of 14 inches. The yield was harvested on September 25, the seeds being well ripened by this date. As only a few seeds of this variety were available the seeds were given plenty of room to grow with the result that one plant bore 183 pods while another had 217 pods, only these pods being counted each contained one or more seeds.

In 1917 the Manchou was sown on May 22 and harvested on October 3. Another variety was sown on June 6, and these were harvested on October 2. Well-ripened seeds were obtained in both cases, the later sown plants being about 6 days taller than those sown earlier.

In 1918 seeds of four varieties were sown on May 23, and harvested respectively on September 23, October 3, October 18, October 17.

MR. JOHN HEWITT PRESENTS

51,000 TO LAKE LODGE SCHOOL AND TO EACH OF THE CHURCHES

Mr. John Hewitt, while remembering in a most pleasant manner, the institutions of the village of GRIMSBY, during the past few days, did not forget Lake Lodge School.

Mr. W. J. Drope, Principal of the school has just received a letter from Mr. John Hewitt, informing him that he was placing in the Bank of Hamilton a fifteen-year Victory Bond in the sum of One Thousand Dollars, for the benefit of Lake Lodge School.

The interest on the bond amounts to $55.00 per year and Mr. Hewitt desires that this amount be used each year for providing prizes for the boys attending the school. Mr. Drope, his teaching staff, and the boys now attending the school are delighted over Mr. Hewitt's liberality in thus providing for the benefit of the school.

Churches Also Benefit. Mr. Hewitt has also written to each of the GRIMSBY churches advising each of them that he had placed to their credit, a Victory Bond to the amount of One Thousand Dollars. He stated in his letter that he did not wish to dictate a list of the use this money was put to, but would suggest that it be placed with the other funds of each church and the interest from it be used for the furtherance of the Sunday School work.

The churches benefitting from the generosity of Mr. Hewitt are St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, St. John's Presbyterian Church, the Methodist Church, the Baptist Church, and St. Joseph's (Roman Catholic) church.

WAR SAVING PLAN FILLS LONG FELT NEED

It had long been felt that there was great need in Canada for such a movement as that represented in the National War Savings campaign. Large as was the number of subscribers to the National War Savings Plan, it averaged but one for every seven of the population. This leaves quite a field for the War Savings plan. In the United States one in five subscribed to the Fourth Victory Loan and yet the War Savings campaign is being pushed most energetically in that country.

Through the War Savings Plan the person of small means has a chance such as was never offered before to invest in a Canadian Government security. For the person who pays $4 for a War Savings Stamp buys a Government security on which 4% per cent. compounded annually is paid. Even the person having only 25 cents can, through buying a Thrift Stamp, take the first step toward getting one of these small government securities in the form of a War Savings Stamp.

TRIMLY POULTRY POWSTERS

During the cold weather ice should never be allowed to remain in the drinking vessels. It is a good plan to empty these and clean out at night, when they will be ready in the morning.

You may be able to make off inferior stock on a bargain, but a good price, but it will come up against you when you least expect it.

Trap-netting for six months in the year may be as profitable as to some, but for the commercial poultryman maintaining a heavy egg producing strain is as important as the up-building, and the man who knows just what he is selling to his customers and can give them value, according to what they are prepared to pay, is the man who will be at the head of a most successful poultry plant ten years from today, and have a reputation for square and honest dealing.

In breeding B. B. of any breed remember that the secret of the good color of the Buff line is in the value of the undercolor. The shaft of the feathers should show the Buff pigment right down to the skin and the fluff of the feather should also be a decided buff. Buff color may be intensified by infusing buff of a dark shade, but this must be done gradually, or patchings in coloring will result and the pigment will show itself on the skin, as well as black in the tail. Keep up your Buff and as soon as possible, eliminating the defects in type.

Conserve Gas Supply

WEATHER:

Little colder. Local snow falling.

We look upon a gas leak in our pipe line system as so serious that we have a standing order in the organization for every man to stop what he is doing when a leak is reported, and do everything in his power to locate it and stop it.

Although natural gas is delivered to your home so cheaply, it is one of the most precious of nature's gifts to man. Even as we are careful to stop leaks and prevent wholesale waste of gas, so do we ask you to be economical in your use of gas in your home.

Although natural gas is cheap, do not waste it, the supply is not overabundant.

...group of Czechs, Serbs, Slovaks, Poles, and Austro-Germans, who were lashed to prevent them from using arms. In short, Austria was active to a bloody Central European Balkans. Her internal policy, it turned towards absolutism, towards universal suffrage, towards dualism or what not, was mercenary of keeping uncomfortably quiet, of maintaining a contentment, of seeking to develop a loyalty, a "Gesamtpatriotismus." Her foreign policy aimed to avert the inevitable crash—Austria's allegiance to Germany, her bullying of Serbia, her instant attitude, alternately crying and challenging, towards Russia on all parts of one ill-conceived policy. It was to keep alive, to protect her own dismemberment, that Austria at last made the fatal decision for a war against Serbia, the echoes of which we are hearing today.—The New Republic.

New Year's Day.

During the past year there were only eighty-four days on which the sun was open all over the world. In every one of the other 281 days some nation was celebrating a civil or religious holiday, or observing the Sabbath.

Only one of these holidays is universal. This is New Year's Day, and eleven different dates are observed by various countries on the beginning of a new year. Five Christians do not observe Christmas as a holiday.

Russia leads the nations in the number of its holidays. It has eighty-four, and the United States is second with fifty-four. France observes eighteen formal holidays during the year, and Italy twenty-three. Among the other nations, Germany, it is presumed, will observe twenty-two; Great Britain sixteen, Japan ten and Russia seventeen.

Among the favorite months for holidays the world over, November is, with twenty-six out of its possible thirty days. May comes next with twenty-five.—The Times.
